

The annual running of the Mark Palumbo Memorial University Orthopedics 5K is being held on Sunday, September 24, 2023 at the Kettle Point campus in East Providence. Dr. Mark Palumbo, a renowned spine surgeon, passed away in September 2019. He was not only a beloved member of the University Orthopedics family, he was a highly regarded pillar of the community.

The race starts and finishes at this facility, and serves as a charitable fundraiser for The Tomorrow Fund, a local organization which provides support to children with cancer treated at Hasbro Children’s Hospital and their families.
